Chapter 1 by intellikat

The Cookie Man was feeling particularly repentant this year; in fact he could not remember a time in the past when the guilt of his past deeds weighed so heavily on his crumbly gingerbread soul.

Chapter 2 by SaintSayaka

Maybe that was for the best. The Cookie Man did not exactly have a squeaky clean past. At least now, he had the good grace to feel sorry about it. The problem was figuring out how to compensate for that.

Well, actually, the solution was fairly obvious - start his own religion. If he could move people towards salvation, maybe, just maybe, he would be forgiven. And that was how the cookie crumbled.
